

February 2016 CSA Spotlight Award Winner – Stacy Langan

Prior to the start of the ceremony . . . Stacy Langan, Program Assistant for Business and Industries, Humanities & Social Sciences, shared stories with the audience about her love for the chickens she is raising. They will soon be getting goats and miniature donkeys. It was appropriate that the heart and chick theme was represented in not only her decorations, but in conversation as well. The following comments also reflect her love for students that were made by Jean McCann, Vice President, Instruction and Mary Beth Huxel, Division Chair, Education/Social Sciences & Humanities.

Jean McCann: Stacy is lovely and has been employed with ECC for 8 years. She has worked in a variety of departments with a variety of people. Stacy thinks about students and how she can help a student. If asked does she do the right thing . . . Yes, she does the right thing. She is awesome, and Jean is proud of her work.

Stacy Langan: At this point, Stacy thanked everyone in the audience.

Mary Beth Huxel: Students are most important at all times to Stacy. She is very patient and helps students to be successful. Stacy is driven and oriented. When working with others, she helps hide weaknesses and emphasizes your strengths.

Closing comments: This was probably the highest attendance in our Spotlight history.
